POSTING DATE: 1/19/2022

Job Description: This is a hybrid position encompassing both Class A driving and warehouse work. Work hours will be mainly warehouseman and driver as needed or scheduled. Both job titles and duties described below.

A semi-truck driver for Totten Tubes, Inc. hauls up to, but not limited to, fifty-thousand (50,000) pounds of steel daily for delivery in the San Diego, California Metropolitan area. Employee will drive a semi-trailer truck ("semi truck") which is a combination of a tractor unit and semi-trailers to carry loads of steel tube and pipe. A semi-truck driver delivers material to customers, straps and unstraps the load throughout the day. Unloading will consist of crane operation and forklift operation when needed.

Our warehousemen are required to stand or walk in the warehouse for 8 hours a day. They're required to operate and run a crane, saw and a forklift when needed. They are required to load and to unload trucks daily. They bend over and stoop to lift and stack material pieces by hand or by crane to secure material. Some of the work is labor intensive and at times they are asked to lift between 1 to 50-pound pieces of steel. See physical demands of the job.

Band Saw Operation: Saw operator sets up and operates band saws to cut metal stock. Reads job orders for customer specifications on type of product, size and dimensions. Sets saw blade angle to obtain the correct angle of cuts. Measures work for conformance to order specifications, marks identifying data on workpiece such as piece marks or heat numbers. Replaces defective cutting blade or wheel using hand tools.

Overhead Crane Operation: Overhead crane operators control the lifting, moving and positioning of steel on the crane. They observe their surroundings and make sure that the load is safely attached and within the lifting limits.

Forklift Operation: Operators must be forklift certified. The operator is responsible for operating a forklift to move, locate & pull orders from stock. He is accountable for the safe and efficient operation of the vehicle.

Skills Required:

- Valid Class A Driver's license
- Must be able to drive a Semi-trailer-truck
- Clean driving record
